WILL ASK COURT TO AWARD $10,000

Hagerstown Man Wants Damages for Injuries Sustained in Automobile Accident.

MANY APPLE ORCHARD DEALS

Solid Express Trains Handling Crops From the Fruit Country.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Winchester, Va., August 20.—Frank Smith, of Hagerstown, who was run over and seriously injured late one night last week in that city by an automobile driven by young Henry Neville Stephenson, member of a prominent Winchester family, has filed an action for damages, and it is stated that he will ask the court to award him $10,000. Stephenson was given a hearing in Hagerstown and was sentenced to thirty days in jail, the magistrate stating that a monetary fine was not sufficient, in view of the fact that Stephenson was exceeding the speed limit, did not sound his horn, and did not give the aid of the injured man. Stephenson appealed and gave a $500 bond for his appearance at the November court. It was reported here yesterday that he intends to employ Speaker Richard Evelyn Byrd, of Winchester, and other prominent lawyers to fight the case.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brady, of Summit Point, W. Va., received a letter several days ago from their son, Charles Brady, who had recently been honorably discharged, after a service of a number of years in the United States Army. The effect that it was about to return home, and yesterday they received a telegram announcing his death in the barracks at Fortress Monroe. He was unmarried and leaves his parents, several brothers and one sister.

Rev. William T. Walters, of Winchester, has for the sixth year been elected president of the Valley Central Christian Church Conference, which is now being held at Leesville, Page county. The meeting is being attended by a large number of ministerial and laymen from Northern Virginia and adjoining sections of West Virginia.

Several large apple orchard deals have been made in Winchester during the past week, and although the growers and buyers have declined to give out prices, it is understood that No. 1 fruit brought over $3 a barrel, and No. 2, here, where peaches are grown than any other variety of fruit, the growers have been holding out for $4.50 a crate, and some have sold thousands of crates of peaches at that price. One man sold his orchard for $25,000 on the trees. The railroads are running solid express trains out of Hampshire county in order to handle the fruit quickly.

Miss Rachel Glaze, member of a pioneer family of Fredricksburg, died at her home near Winchester yesterday, aged about sixty years. She was a daughter of the late Solomon Glaze and a sister of David S. Glaze, of Winchester.

The sixty-second annual convention of the Disciples of Christ has been in progress for several days at the Gallie Church, near White Hall, Frederick county, with a large attendance of ministers and laymen. The principal address of the convention was by Rev. J. Willis, of Lynchburg. A meeting was held to-day, and dinner was served on the grounds to all who came.

Distemper has broken out in a severe form among the horses now quartered at the United States Army remount station, near Front Royal, and it is said that about 250 animals are affected. Captain Caspar H. Conrad, Jr., who is in charge of the station, has arranged to have all the horses inoculated with antitoxin.

Mrs. Annie Lowery Weicht, who is suing her husband, Dr. John M. Weicht, a veterinarian, for a divorce, has obtained an injunction in the Corporation Court restraining and prohibiting him from moving any of his property out of the State or disposing of the same, and also restraining him from drawing on the grounds to all who came.

Rev. J. W. Link, of Bristol, Va., preached to-day in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, at Tom's Brook, and it is expected that a call will be extended to him to become pastor of that church and also St. Paul's Church, at Strasburg. In that event he will be asked to succeed the late Rev. L. L. Smith, D. D.

Mrs. Charles Young, of Waynesboro, who had been unable to get news from her husband since he left home several months ago to look for employment, learned a few days ago, through relatives and policemen, that he had been injured by a dynamite explosion in a quarry near Martinsburg, and that his condition was serious. Relatives of the injured man went to Martinsburg, and he will be taken home as soon as his condition permits.

The annual meeting of the Shenandoah Baptist Association will be held in the church of that denomination at Rockland, Warren county, on August 30 and 31 and September 1.

Lyne Dupuy McCormick, of Clarke county, has been appointed a midshipman in the United States Navy, and he left Berryville yesterday for Annapolis to take his examinations. He is a son of Surgeon A. M. D. McCormick, who has been medical director at the Naval Academy for several years.

Professor C. M. Farmer has been elected principal of the public school of Front Royal, and will take up his new duties on September 12. For the past four years he has been principal of the Berryville schools.

Fred S. Hunt, formerly manager of a Winchester woolen mill, and now of Martinsburg, W. Va., and Miss Mamie J. Barr, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Barr, of Winchester, were married a few days ago in Washington. They are now on an extended trip to the West.

Marshall Tapscott, member of a well-known Clarke county family, and Miss Laura Nulton, daughter of Mrs. Minerva Nulton and the late John M. Nulton, of Chambersburg, Pa., were married last week in Washington. They will make their home in this city upon returning from their honeymoon.

Mrs. Baker Seabright, of Winchester, suddenly has sprung into the public eye as a result of the news given forth to the metropolitan newspapers that she had been fined in the police court for spanking her five-year-old son, who wanted to go back to a yard party for more ice cream and cake when he was too sleepy to keep his eyes open.

Many members of the Sine family are gathering from far and near to attend the annual reunion of that clan, which will be held near Winchester on August 24. Those in charge of the reunion expect a large gathering of brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles and all known relatives. Notice has been served, however, that all who attend will be expected to bring their own dinner baskets, well filled.

Fred E. Lunsenberger and Dave Tyson, of Frederick county, who openly sold camp meeting at the Methodist camp meeting at Ridgeview, have been unable to get bail and have been held for the grand jury at Martinsburg. They pleaded guilty when arraigned for a hearing. It has developed that they not only sold liquor to laymen and boys, but that several ministers who wanted to go to Ridgeview were held in a room in which the men had a barroom and bought the "wet goods," paying 60 cents a pint. One minister carried his pint in his hand up the main aisle of the big tent and placed it on the pulpit, saying he had just bought it from the "wet goods" men. Then men were then hauled off by deputy marshals and sheriffs and hustled off to the Berkeley county jail.

While waiting for a train at night in the Cincinnati station, Miss Etta B. Thatcher, of Winchester, who was returning from San Antonio, Texas, was robbed of her hand
